

2011 | BY ISSUE

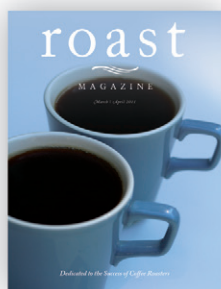

January | February 2011

Coffee Grading Analytics—Testing the tester
A Label Undeserved—Proposition 65 and coffee
Weathering History—A 19th-century roastery stands the test of time
Firestarters—Bill Anstedt of Caribou Coffee
The Coffee Review—Brandy and Surprises: The new naturals
News Item—A Year After the Quake: Restoring Haiti's coffee industry

July | August 2011

Handling the Cherry—The risks and rewards of processing methods—origin case study: Hawaii
Lighter than Air—What air-quality engineering can tell us about coffee
Espresso Evaluation—Truths, half-truths and myths from an Italian perspective
Firestarters—Adam Pesce of Reunion Island Coffee
The Coffee Review—Single-Origin Espressos

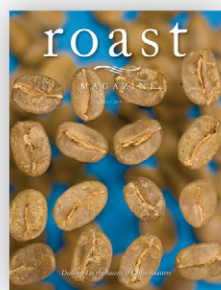

March | April 2011

The Art of the Blend—Channeling inspiration into the cup
Deconstructing Decaf—Decaffeination processes explained
10 Things I Wish I Had Known When I Started Roasting—Words of advice from seasoned roasters
Firestarters—Bob Goldman of Allegro Coffee Company
The Coffee Review—Prize-Winning Coffees from Latin America
News Item—International Recognition Propels Ka'u into Coffee Spotlight

September | October 2011

Market Analysis—Coffee markets may be ready for new highs
Stuck in the Middle—What everyone can learn from medium-sized roasters
Thinking Out of the Box—Unique applications for coffee and roasting technology
Ecuador Rising—Coffee from the center of the world
Firestarters—Jim Cleaves of Dunkin' Brands
The Coffee Review—Quest for an Everyday Coffee: Macro-Lots 2011
News Item—Growing Knowledge in Guatemala's Coffeeland

May | June 2011

The Certification Conundrum—Are coffee certifications still important?
Unbottling the Aromas of Coffee—Improving sensory skills with Le Nez Du Café
To Have and Have Not—The struggle with sample roasting
Lab Report—How to set up an in-house coffee lab for QC and training
Passport to the Coffee Lands—Investing in productive origin travel
Firestarters—Chris Wade of Coffee Bean International
The Coffee Review—Readers' Nominations 2011: Old trends and new News Item—Coffee Nonprofit Aims to Improve Literacy Rates in Laos

November | December 2011

8th Annual Roaster of the Year Award
Micro Roaster of the Year: Bird Rock Coffee Roasters
Macro Roaster of the Year: Portland Roasting
Find Your Niche: Six ways to boost your bottom line with target markets
2012 Industry Directory
2004-2011 Roast magazine article index